Types of @ Home Prep Online Training Courses

Online Exam Prep/Review Courses –

Courses designed to prepare students to take State License exams. Training materials based on key information found in the reference books from which the State License exams are developed.

These are fully narrated courses designed to teach students HOW to study the material found in the reference/code books. The knowledge students' gain through this training will increase their familiarity with these materials and enable them to quickly access key information when taking the license exam. This course includes several practice quizzes designed to test students understanding of key principles and concepts.

Online Continuing Education Courses –

State approved, fully narrated courses designed to provide current licensees with Trade specific training that meets state requirements for mandated Continuing Education prior to each renewal. Upon successful completion, @ Home Prep will notify the state licensing body and the student will be able to print off a certificate of completion.
